

We cannot claim this book to be perfect or complete, as no such work can be, although it is more so than the average of its kind. Nor can we state that it is free of errors, being derived from thousands of fallible sources, it would be a marvel if there were not some.

This book was only possible with the extraordinary help of past & present relatives from all over the world that graciously left/provided us with the information & photographs that would have been lost to us without their efforts.

We made this book with the hope that future generations will enjoy and treasure it with the same passion that went into creating it.
